GENERAL JACKSON ON COLOR.—Those original Jackson men who now affect to be intensely chivalrous, hold the negroes in especial contempt, and can see no good in their becoming freemen, are recommended to read the following historical record:

On Sunday, December 18, 1814 [see Niles' Register, vol. vii], General Jackson reviewed the Militia of the city of New Orleans, the battalion commanded by Major Planche, and part of the regiment of men of color. Being drawn up on their respective parades, the following addresses were read to them by Livingston, one of his aids:

We omit the address to the white soldiers.

TO THE MEN OF COLOR.

Soldiers! From the shores of Mobile I collected you to arms. I invited you to share in the perils and to divide the glory of your white countrymen. I expected much from you, for I was not uninformed of those qualities which must render you so formidable to an invading foe. I knew that you could endure hunger and thirst, and all the hardships of war. I knew that you loved the land of your nativity, and that, like ourselves, you had to defend all that is most dear to man; but you surpass my hopes. I have found in you, united to those qualities, that noble enthusiasm which impels to great deeds. Soldiers! the President of the United States shall be informed of your conduct on the present occasion, and the voice of the representatives of the American Nation shall applaud your valor, as your General now praises your ardor. The enemy is near—his "sails cover the lakes"—but the brave are united, and if he finds us contending among ourselves, it will be for the prize of valor, and fame, its noblest reward.

By Command: THOMAS L. BUTLER,
Aid-de-Camp.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red Wh[illegible] and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

WEDNESDAY MORNING, FEB 25, 1863

SUPPORTING THE GOVERNMENT —We notice that a prominent cotemporary has recently found it necessary to protest its faith in the general government, and more particularly define (?) its present position upon the duties required, or rather anticipated of it by the loyal citizens of this State who have been its principal supporters for the past two years It is not our purpose at this time to comment upon the necessity which called forth this protestation of fealty and honorable devotion to our National Union, but we cannot avoid the reflection that something of more than common occurrence has happened, requiring such a course, nor do we believe that it would require a "Yankee" to guess the cause "Murder will out," is a very old and true saying, and notwithstanding the slick plastering of skillful workmen, a black spot will occasionally present itself upon the wall to mar the beauty and perfection believed to be genuine These are truly suspicious times and he who would build to himself a political habitation must be more than careful how and from what source he selects the material It is not sufficient that the structure shall outwardly appear perfect, well proportioned and systematic, but it must be substantial, well founded and squarely built, otherwise the sudden shocks and tumultuous heavings which are now frequently felt throughout our whole political system, shaking to the very centre every structure and causing the foundations of the government itself to quake with trembling, will soon produce unsightly and suspicious rents, evidences of an early downfall, crushing beneath its rubbish all hopes of future greatness and power. The builders of such edifices will more than once find it necessary to plaster over or prop up the damaged parts, and thus preserve the appearance of solidity for a time being, or rather for temporary purposes; but each returning shock will cause still greater rents and requiring still more skillful plastering to repair the damages until it eventually tumbles beyond redemption — We have long since been satisfied that more than one of our political builders has constructed a temporary shelter which he vainly hopes will protect him from the dangers of the present commotion, and answer the temporary purposes of his ambition, out of which he hopes to escape should disastrous evidences of its insecurity convince him that it is no longer tenable. But unless we have lost our reckoning the time fast hastens when all such flimsy shelterings will be suddenly torn from their sandy foundations, and its occupants either crushed forever beyond resurrection or left bare and unprotected to the scorching blast of a justly indignant populace, whose judgments of condemnation will not be slow or unrelenting.

TRADE AND COMMERCE —The busy season of trade will soon be opened again by our merchants, traders and shippers and the streets of our city again filled with the jostling, hurrying, crowding, enterprising throng of thousands, all eager to obtain a share of the profits which may be realized from active industry and sharp dealing We already begin to see extensive preparations being made by many of our business men for the coming harvest. That a rich harvest is in store for all who may avail themselves of the advantages of trade and commerce, seems to be the unanimous conviction of all who have given the subject any attention, and that to secure a reasonable portion of the proceeds only requires a reasonable amount of energy, industry, and proper management There will be many scythes entered in the field, of many shapes, sizes and patterns, but one thing is certain, they will all be whetted as sharp as the metal of which they are composed will permit, and each individual will endeavor to cut as wide a swath as possible Wade in, gentlemen, we will attend you with all the stimulants at our command

An exchange says that Ingraham's blockade raising at Charleston is something like the fellows' bear hunt He went out, saw a bear, fired at it, the bear chased him and he ran into camp, shouting "I've got the game, boys!" and brought it right into camp When our boats chased Ingraham into Charleston he shouted "I've raised the blockade, it's coming right into port!"

We notice that the Eugene Review heads the first column of its general news with the appropriate words "Budget of Rebel War News" We would suggest that this heading be substituted for the present name of that paper, as it would be unquestionably appropriate, besides saving the trouble of having to find a suitable head for the various treasonable paragraphs found beneath

The Corvallis Union, Albany Democrat, Eugene City Budget and Oregon Statesman, devote the greater share of their respective columns in their last issues to the publication of Governor Seymour's Message Verily, the people of Oregon will be well posted in that document, if in none other

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

Legal Tender Notes this Day—65 cents.

ARRIVAL OF THE SIERRA NEVADA.—The steamship Sierra Nevada arrived at this port last night about 10 o clock from San Francisco, via Victoria. We received by favor of Wells, Fargo & Co full files of San Francisco papers, including the Evening Bulletin of the 17th, and Alta of the 18th inst from which we have selected the most important eastern news up to the 16th, which seems to be the latest dates received at the time of the sailing of the steamer.

The news from the East is somewhat meager and unimportant though sufficiently interesting to demand perusal. We have been unable to discover any allusion to the reinstating of General McClellan to the command of the Federal army, and conclude that the report which reached us by the bark Almy was a slight "hoax."

From some unknown cause we failed to receive a copy of the list of passengers by the Sierra Nevada, but presume that several persons came up on her. The Purser of this steamer will receive our best thanks if he will hereafter be kind enough to furnish us with a list of passengers.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—We call the attention of our readers to the new advertisements in to-days' issue. Messrs Moody & Co Bankers, Forwarding and Commission Merchants, Dalles, announce that they possess superior facilities for storing and forwarding goods to any part of the mines, also banking facilities, etc etc.

Mr. A Richardson advertises that he will sell on Friday, March 3d, at his Auction Rooms a large lot of fine gold and silver watches, jewelry, etc, etc.

Ankeny & Sons have opened a wholesale and retail store at Oro Fino where everything required for Spring purposes can be had at fair rates.

Some fifty or more mining claims on Powder River are advertised for sale at G Collier Robins' Powder River Mining Claim Agency, Auburn.

Several other business notices and cards may be found of interest or advantage to many.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Notwithstanding the wet, cold, and unpleasant winter weather, which has lasted for more than three months past, with but few days of fair weather, still we notice that improvements have steadily progressed throughout our city. Dozens of new edifices have been erected during the winter and others are in progress of erection besides other improvements in the way of additions repairs, etc. Portland is fast growing into a city of magnitude and commercial importance.

WE KNOW IT.—We know that the firm of Heuston, Hastings & Co, of San Francisco, have the best made Clothing in the State, and it is surprising that our enterprising merchants do not get the New York House to manufacture for them. Send them your orders with measure.

A Favorite Remedy.—We believe no medicine in the world has ever given such astonishing proof of its efficacy as DR. WM HALL'S BALSAM. In cases of severe Coughs, Bronchitis and incipient Consumption, this medicine acts in the most prompt and agreeable manner, restoring health when all other [illegible] have failed.

REDINGTON & CO.,
General Agents for the Pacific Coast,
416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco.

Coughs. The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

White's Fever and Ague-Drops.—For the cure of AGUE, PANAMA FEVER, NEURALGIA and GENERAL DEBILITY.

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success. Indeed in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure. In Ague especially one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these [illegible], but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone. A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten.

Prepared only by ROBERT WHITE, Chemist and Druggist, Main street, Placerville, and Broadway Upper Placerville. For sale by all respectable Druggists throughout the State.

Wholesale Agents EDWARD HALL & CO, Wholesale Druggists, 533 Washington street, San Francisco, to whom all orders should be addressed.

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases. If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time, it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea, it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

We'll Meet Again.

"We'll meet again!"—the parting hour
Hath many a charm to lure;
Its mem'ries have a winning power,
An influence chaste and pure,
That in the heart of hearts survive,
When joys and hopes are vain—
But none these few short words outlive,
"We'll meet again."

"We'll meet again!"—how sweet the sound
When fond affection binds!
In traversing life's weary round,
The lonely pilgrim finds
A bliss where all was grief before,
A joy where all was pain,
When mem'ry calls to him once more,
"We'll meet again."

"We'll meet again!"—thou noble one
That round my heart has cast
A halo, when all else is gone,
Will cling unto the last;—
Know that each fibre of the breast
Echoes this sweet refrain,
When the soul seeks its final rest,
"We'll meet again."

"We'll meet again!"—If not on earth,
Oh, look above and see
The spirit that around my hearth
Would chime sweet melody;
Of all thou wert or art to me,
There'll be this holy strain
To bear my spirit back to thee,
"We'll meet again!"

Chances and Changes in the South.

What a remarkable change has been effected by the war in the inner and outer life of the people of the Confederate States. We do not rightly or fully appreciate it ourselves, absorbed as we are in the duties the war forces upon us, or distracted by the rush and whirl of passing events. We do not, indeed, apprehend that we are living under a condition of affairs as totally different from that to which we have been accustomed from the cradle, as the life of the antipodes. In very truth, the war, if it has not taken from us at once and entirely the habits of our whole existence in the past, has so altered and modified them that they are no longer the same. In dress, in food, in business occupations, in literature, even in modes of speech, we have, insensibly, to a great extent, but certainly undergone an extraordinary change. It may not be unprofitable to look at some of these alterations in our daily routine.

Take the article of dress. Fashion has become an obsolete, almost a forgotten thing. We do not so much as know what is the mode in a coat, a hat, a skirt, or a mantilla. That anonymous, rosy-cheeked and well-gloved young woman, who of yore made her monthly visits to the boudoir in the colored fashion plates, is quite dead, poor creature, so far as our wives, daughters and sweethearts know of her. Indeed, it may be doubted if there be such a thing as a boudoir any longer in these Confederate States. Hospitals our glorious Southern women attend, and sewing rooms they keep up, but boudoirs have gone out utterly. If, two years ago, the belle of society could have seen herself in a vision, as she now appears, in antiquated bonnet, faded dress, dingy gloves, (perhaps gloveless, with her plump white hands exposed to the admiration of the public,) the dear girl would have started in terror from the "perfect fright" represented. As for the men, such of them as, for various reasons, good and bad, have not adopted the fashion of the Confederate soldier's grey jacket, their only chance of knowing what styles of coats and trousers are worn in the world, is afforded by the sight, now and then, of a stray Englishman newly arrived on the continent of America, and having just run the blockade of the Potomac, resolved upon seeing the rebels for himself. (Nota Bene—This change is an unmixed good. Before the war, it was the universal rule that the people of the South, like their Yankee enemies, dressed with ridiculous extravagance. Men wore broadcloth in their counting-rooms, and women managed their housekeeping in moire antique. It is infinitely more respectable, to say nothing of the stimulus afforded to domestic manufacture, to wear homespun.)

Take the article of food. Who would have believed, in the year of grace 1860, that in the year of grace 1862, 8,000,000 of people should have discontinued the use of tea and coffee, and, in lieu of the latter, should have learned to drink cheerfully decoctions of wheat, rye, sweet potatoes and peanuts? Who would then have supposed that through ten degrees of latitude there should be no Worcester sauce, and that a dearth of oysters could be borne with serenity by a nation long habituated to scollops? What wild imagination could have conceived that white sugar would be extinct, and that the canvass-back duck would be classed with the dodo among the most luxurious of the Southern people? And more than this, than these, than all, for our illustrations rise to a climax, what anticipator of the future could have dreamed that, within two revolutions of the earth round the sun, from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, not a bar-room should offer its beguiling beverages to the thirsty public? But if the war learns us the lesson of self-denial, simplicity and temperance, we shall have reason to bless the blockade.

In business occupations, how few of us are engaged in the same labor that tasked our energies two years ago! No produce is brought into town by railway or steamer, the Exchange is deserted, the warehouses are shut up. As for books, such of us as have time to read at all, must fall back upon our standard novelists, essayists, and dramatists, for Bulwer, Dickens, Thackery, Collins, Trollope, Tennyson, "Owen Meredith," delight us no longer. And, as we have said, the very vocabulary we now employ differs from the mode of speech in use before the war. Phrases borrowed from the camp or from works on tactics, are in everybody's mouth, and are constantly employed in novel significations. A sort of military slang has crept into the parlor. At home the marketing belongs to the "commissary department," and when we make a journey the member of the party that attends to the tickets and the baggage is the "quartermaster." If there were such a thing as dancing in our Southern social circles at this time, (as there is not) "forward two" would be an "onward movement," and "dos-a-dos" would be a "change of base," while the "deux-temps" and the "gallop" would contend for the new call of "double-quick."

The survivors of this war who shall live to see their grand-children growing up around them, will have strange stories to tell of high prices and hard times—$75 a pair for boots, and a Christmas without mince pies or egg-nog. But is it not inconceivable that our enemies, vindictive, implacable, and demented as they are, should not, as a shrewd and practical race, see at once that a people capable of making such sacrifices, and enduring with cheerfulness such privations, are terribly in earnest, and can never be brought under the yoke? The Caudine Forks are not for them.—Richmond Illustrated News.

Proclamation by the Governor.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, PORTLAND, OREGON,
January 6, 1863.

By the President of the United States, through Brigadier General George Wright, commanding the Department of the Pacific, and Brigadier General Benjamin Alvord, commanding the District of Oregon, I have been requested to raise six additional companies, required to complete the 1st Regiment of Cavalry, Oregon Volunteers. They will be needed the coming Spring on the frontiers of this State and Washington Territory, and for an expedition against the Snake Indians, who have so long been mercilessly engaged in robbing emigrants and murdering our fellow-citizens. I cannot doubt that the citizens of Oregon, who have always promptly responded to any demand for their military services, will in like manner respond to this call: thereby showing their loyalty to the Government, and aiding in chastising marauding bands of Indians which infest our frontiers.

The enlisted men, when mounted, will be supplied with horses by the United States, it being understood that they will be mounted or not, as shall be deemed advisable by the Government.

Propositions to raise a whole company, which will furnish their own horses and horse equipments, may be entertained. The men are in such cases entitled to forty cents a day for the use and risk of their horses and horse equipments.

Each company will consist of one hundred enlisted men, and when mustered into the service of the United States to serve for three years, unless sooner discharged.

Recruiting offices will be immediately opened at Portland, Dalles City, and perhaps at other places.

By the Governor,
ADDISON C. GIBBS.
CYRUS A. REED, Adjutant General.
